Protecting & Improving
the Health of Iowans

In November 2016, Iowa joined a Sexual Violence Prevention (SVP) Learning Community hosted by the Association of State and Territorial Health Officials (ASTHO). ASTHO is a national nonprofit whose members consist of chief health officials in the US states and territories. The purpose of this learning community is to elevate SVP as a public health priority and to engage public health leadership in the issue. The learning community has a cohort of six states including the Year 1 states of AK, CO, MN and VA, and Year 2 additions of IA and NM. One element of this project was a statewide stakeholder meeting that ASTHO representatives conducted at IDPH on February 1st, 2017. A group of more than 20 stakeholders representing a diverse group of organizations dedicated to SVP were welcomed by Director Clabaugh as they started their day of brainstorming action steps across various levers of change. Additionally, IDPH's Violence Prevention Coordinator is partnering with regional sexual assault programs across the state to conduct Listening Sessions to discuss sexual violence prevention efforts in each region and opportunities for cross sector collaboration. The ASTHO SVP Learning Community project period ends June 2017. The information collected will provide valuable insight into the development and implementation of SVP efforts in Iowa beyond the project period.

Did you know?

Sexual violence in Iowa cost an estimated $5.8 billion in fiscal year 2009, or $1,875 per resident, yet less than 1% of money spent as a result of sexual violence in Iowa goes towards funding prevention efforts. Prevention is a wise investment, as it can reduce the likelihood those exposed to interpersonal violence will experience depression, substance abuse, or other health problems later in life.

Why is Violence Prevention important to protecting and improving the health of Iowans?

- An average of 19 Iowans die each year due to domestic violence homicides or suicides.
- Since 1995, 27 children were killed in domestic abuse murders and another 82 children were present at the scene when a murder occurred.
- 1 in 5 Iowa women will experience physical violence by an intimate partner and 1 in 10 will experience sexual violence in their lifetimes. Men also experience this, but at much lower rates.
- Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) such as abuse, neglect, substance abuse in the home or a caregiver with mental illness can lead to poor health and social outcomes across the lifespan. The CDC estimates that having an ACEs score of 6 or more can reduce life expectancy by an average of 20 years. 56% of Iowa adults reported experiencing at least one ACE and 14.5% reported four or more.
- Research has shown that preventing the first act of sexual or domestic violence can stop the cycle of violence that often occurs in families and high-risk populations like women and low-income Iowans.
- Public health methods are effective in preventing violence through community involvement, education, and changing social norms that support violence.

Which Iowa Public Health Goals are we working to achieve?

Prevent injuries & violence

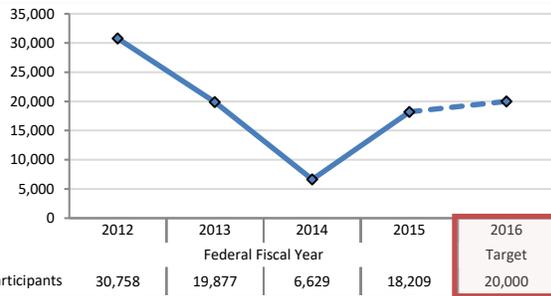

Promote healthy living

What do we do?

- Analyze violence data (including domestic abuse homicides and suicides) and release reports on violence prevention issues.
- Provide training and technical assistance to identify, assess, intervene, report, and document domestic violence and sexual assault for healthcare providers and other community professionals.
- Coordinate public information campaigns to change social beliefs that contribute to violence.
- Provide funding, training, and technical assistance for targeted prevention strategies aimed at community professionals, organizations, and communities.
- Make recommendations to state officials, agencies, and community leaders on how to prevent violence.

How do we measure our progress?

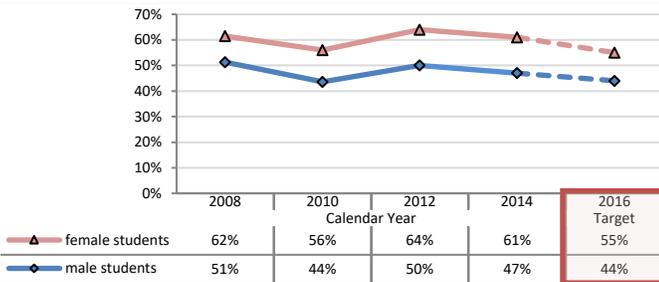

1 Number of students and professionals participating in sexual and domestic violence prevention programs.

Data Source: Iowa Coalition Against Sexual Assault. Data are available annually. 2014 data is 6-months only.

How are we doing? Decreases in state and federal sources of funds have changed the number of programs funded and the way people are reached through prevention programming. Fewer people are reached by more frequent exposure for more long-term impact.

2 Percent of Iowa students (grades 6, 8, & 11) who report experience with being bullied.

Data Source: Iowa Youth Survey. Data are available every two years.

How are we doing? Rates of bullying that increased in 2010 are beginning to decline. Female students are more likely than male students to report being bullied.

3 Percent of Iowa 9-12 grade students who report they were ever physically forced to have sexual intercourse when they did not want to.

Data Source: Youth Risk Behavior Survey. Data are available every two years. Insufficient statewide response rate for 2013 & 2015. Next data reported in 2017 and available in 2018

How are we doing? There was a slight decrease in 2007 but an increase again in 2011. Iowa's rates are lower than the national average.

What can Iowans do to help?

1. Be an active bystander when you see someone bullying, harassing, or hurting another person. Support the person who is the target of the violence, and take a stand against violence.
2. Build caring connections within your community. Studies have shown that communities with higher rates of community support and connectedness have lower rates of child maltreatment, intimate partner violence, sexual violence, youth violence, suicide, and elder maltreatment. For more info, go to Connecting the Dots from the CDC.
3. Healthcare professionals can routinely screen for violence during patient visits, properly document findings, and refer patients for help when abuse is found. The Violence program offers training for healthcare professionals. For more information, go to Health Care Response to Violence Against Women.
4. Community professionals can take steps to reduce risk factors for violence and promote strategies to reduce it. To learn more, go to Sexual Violence Prevention.
5. Find opportunities to get involved in awareness month campaigns. Opportunities include Teen DV Month in February, Child Abuse Prevention Month, Sexual Assault Prevention Month, and National Youth Violence Prevention Week in April, National Campus Safety Awareness Month in September, and Domestic Violence Awareness Month in October.
6. Contact the Iowa Domestic Violence Helpline at 1-800-770-1650 or the Iowa Sexual Abuse Hotline at 1-800-284-7821 if you or someone you care about is in need of support and referral.
